PURPOSE

This program is designed to introduce students to the field of anthropology as a whole, encourage them to find their own anthropological directions and prepare them for more rigorous future education.

PROGRAM INFORMATION

Anthropology is the study of humanity. This comprehensive discipline is divided into four subfields, including archaeology, biological anthropology, cultural anthropology and linguistic anthropology. Connecting these subfields is a series of approaches that encourage the individual to be comparative in scope, evolutionary in depth and holistic in perspective.

Note: To earn the A.A. with Emphasis in Anthropology, students need to complete all requirements for a general A.A. degree, incorporating the specific requirements of their chosen emphasis. Careful planning with an academic advisor or counselor as well as with a member of the anthropology department is strongly advised to tailor the emphasis to meet the requirements of the student's chosen four-year college or university.

ARTICULATION AGREEMENTS

RECOMMENDED COURSE OF STUDY FOR A.A. DEGREE WITH ANTHROPOLOGY EMPHASIS

Here is the recommended course of full-time study for the A.A. degree with anthropology emphasis. Note that many B.A. cultural anthropology programs require a second language. For students interested in linguistic anthropology, two or more languages are strongly recommended. Students interested in biological anthropology should consider taking biology general elective courses in consultation with anthropology faculty. Students interested in archaeology should consider taking geography and history general elective courses in consultation with anthropology faculty. Note that not all courses will be available every semester. In many instances, you will be able to choose a specific course from a MnTC Goal Area. For a complete list of MnTC Goal Area course choices, please visit: www.inverhills.edu/MnTC
