PURPOSE

This program is designed to introduce students to the field of anthropology as a whole, encourage them to find their own anthropological directions and prepare them for more rigorous future education.

PROGRAM INFORMATION

Anthropology is the study of humanity. This comprehensive discipline is divided into four subfields, including archaeology, biological anthropology, cultural anthropology and linguistic anthropology. Connecting these subfields is a series of approaches that encourage the individual to be comparative in scope, evolutionary in depth and holistic in perspective.

Note: To earn the A.A. with Emphasis in Anthropology, students need to complete all requirements for a general A.A. degree, incorporating the specific requirements of their chosen emphasis. Careful planning with an academic advisor or counselor as well as with a member of the anthropology department is strongly advised to tailor the emphasis to meet the requirements of the student's chosen four-year college or university.

ARTICULATION AGREEMENTS

Students completing this A.A. degree with emphasis in anthropology who plan to transfer to a four-year institution to complete their B.A. degree in anthropology may benefit from an articulation agreement with one of the following schools:
